ROOSEVELT MAY STOP FEW MINUTES NEXT WEDNESDAY

Republicans Want Ex-Moose Chief to Stop As He Goes From Corbin to Louisville.

Local Republicans and others who have a curiosity to see him are interested in the possibility that ex-President Roosevelt may make a short address in Stanford next Wednesday afternoon. The man who made and mangled the Bull Moose party is scheduled for a speech at Corbin about one o'clock that afternoon, and his special train then will make a run for Louisville where it is reported, he will speak that night. Local Republicans and admirers of Roosevelt are making an effort to have his train stopped at Stanford, that he make a few minutes' address to the voters on behalf of Hughes, who, together with Taft, Barnes, Penrose, Smoot and others of the Old Guard Roosevelt, is supporting this year. Roosevelt would undoubtedly draw a large crowd for many would like to see just what he looks like.

Democratic Speaking Dates. Congressman Harvey Helm goes to Junction City tonight where he will address the voters on behalf of Wilson and the ticket. He will undoubtedly be greeted by a large crowd for he is a great favorite there. He spoke at Warsaw, Gallatin county, Tuesday to a courtroom full of people, which was considered rather remarkable for a Tuesday crowd.

Democratic speakings are arousing much interest all over Lincoln county and extraordinarily good audiences are turning out. The feature this week was the maiden speech Thursday night of Harvey Wilkinson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkinson, of this city, which was delivered at O. K. schoolhouse. Young Wilkinson has been acting as secretary to Congressman Helm for about a year, and though a mere youth, he made a crackling speech and gave the voters of that part of the county the old gospel of Democracy in a way which would have done credit to a man much his senior in years. He "made good" right off the reel, speaking for about 40 minutes, and greatly pleased all who heard him. Oliver Singleton presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Wilkinson. About 75 voters were out at the speaking. Other speaking dates which have been announced by the local campaign committee are as follows:

25 Cents Destroys Your Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick Wavy and Beautiful—Try This

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff; of the awful scrub. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which is not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on the life lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. 81-1

Pepples Coming Back

Local Man Fails To Get Good Place Politicians Promised Him

John C. Pepples, who went from here a few weeks ago to Eddyville, where the state's branch penitentiary is located, under promise of Gov. Stanley that he would be appointed superintendent of the prison farm, returned to Lincoln late last week, hunting for a farm to rent so as to return here with his family. He found when he reached Eddyville, that instead of being farm superintendent at $100 according to promise, he was merely an over-guard, and drawing a guard's salary of $75 a month upon which he and his family cannot live. Both Mr. Pepples and Representative W. G. Gooch, who secured his appointment from Stanley, as well as his host of other friends, feel that he has not been treated exactly right. Mr. Pepples is a successful and up-to-date farmer in every way and, splendidly qualified for the place of Farm Superintendent which he and his friends thought he would get.

The members all brought good things to eat and the crowd assembled in the yard and the edibles were served to each guest in small trays. His other children had been treated with anti-toxin to prevent them from having this dread children's malady.

O. P. Newland was down, as usual from Burnside, to attend court day market here. He says that he will be back again on Nov. 7th to vote for Wilson and Marshall. Forty-four years ago he cast his vote for Tilden and Hendricks and not once in that time has he ever voted anything but the straight Democratic ticket which is certainly some record to be proud of. Mr. Newland says that he personally knows several life-long Republicans in the section of Pulaski where he is staying who are going to cast their first Democratic votes in a life-time for Woodrow Wilson this year. Is Bearing Her Cross

Mrs. Johnson In Jail Here, Says She's Following Her Master

Mrs. J. E. Johnson, of the Waynesburg section of the county, in jail here serving a seven day sentence for failure to send her young children to school, and thereby violating the compulsory attendance law of Kentucky, has written a message to the people of Stanford and Lincoln county, which she is desirous of having the I. J. publish. Mrs. Johnson says that she is an evangelist of the Church of God. She writes as follows:

A Trial of Faith
This is the victory that overcomes the world, even your faith.—I. John, 5:4.

Dear Reader.—While sitting here in these dark prison walls, I can realize more fully what Jesus meant when he said, "My people shall be tried as by fire." Today I am going through the fiery trials for Jesus' sake. Because I love Jesus and desire to do his will, I am here. Only we, who have tasted of the cup of suffering know what Jesus meant when he said, "If we suffer with Him, we shall also reign with Him." Dear people, I never knew what suffering with Him really meant; I never knew just how great was His suffering; when He was paying the great debt for me, never did I realize how great the price was that was paid for my eternal redemption until I took my precious curly-haired baby in my arms and pressed his sweet lips to mine and looked down into his sweet baby face, perhaps for the last time, and turned my face from him to follow Jesus. Oh, dear reader, I could tell them what the great loving Father above suffered for me. When he unbosomed His dear and only Son and sent Him down here in this cruel world to be buffeted and spit on and mocked and was taken before the council and even put to death, no wonder the whole earth shook and the rocks rent; no wonder the world was draped in darkness; no wonder all creation mourned. No, I don't wonder why my Heavenly Father turned His blessed face and refused to look upon it. The scene was too great, and today, since I have tasted of that great suffering, my soul is made to cry out, "O, Lord, how awfully ashamed I am that I helped to cause that great suffering on the cross, by transgressing God's Holy law. But beneath all my suffering there's a deep settled peace that I found at the foot of that cross, when I said, "Lord, I am so sorry I ever sinned and caused you this suffering." I said, "I will bear the cross now, Father, the rest of my days and I have carried it for eight long years and today I find myself still under it. I have no desire to lay it down, for when I lay down the cross I lay down the crown. I fully realize that the cross which I am now carrying will exchange at the end of the race for a crown of eternal life. I am not tired of the way, for it grows brighter each day I walk in it. Dear reader, I wish I could see you face to face, for I have found the pearl of great price. God said, "Come buy of me gold that is tried." Praise His dear name, I have found that gold that has been tried. It will stand the test of the judgment. So pray for my babies that are at home without father or mother. I may see them again God only knows. God said they would take us before rulers and before the council and commit us to prison, yes, even kill us, and think they were doing God's service; but may the Good Lord bless them, for they know not what they do. I am more determined to go on with Jesus than ever before.

Your loving friend, in Jesus, waiting for his coming.

MRS. J. E. JOHNSON.

Political Announcements

The Interior Journal is authorized to announce the following candidates for office subject to the Democratic primary the first Saturday in August, 1917. (Announcement fee for each county office is $10; for district office, $15; for city or magisterial office $5. No announcement will be made until fee is paid
in advance.)

FOR SHERIFF—
J. H. LIVINGSTON.

Montgomery county will vote on a $15,000 bond issue to buy a farm for the support of her paupers. Lincoln county probably made a mistake
when she sold her poor house farm.
It is a great deal more expensive to keep paupers up by paying them allowance of so much every month than it is to have them do what work they can for their keep on a farm. It would be a mighty good idea for Lincoln to buy another farm, place her paupers upon it, and dispense entirely with the plan of giving allowances each month.

WILSON'S EUROPEAN POLICY

A Methodist missionary is responsible for the statement that President Wilson's policy in regard to Mexico has been perfect. He spent 15 years in that God-forsaken country and knows whereof he speaks.
James G. Shepherd, a prominent newspaper writer, has likewise been in Europe much of the time since the great world-war began. Hughes and other republicans have gone the limit
in criticizing Wilson and the course
he has consistently pursued in regard to entanglements with the European nations. Shepherd tells in strong language, however, just how Wilson and his foreign policies are looked at from the other side of the pond. Read what he writes.

I have been on every front in Europe and in every capital except Petrograd.

On the fronts I have seen the horrors of war. And in the capitals I have seen the efforts of the various fighting nations to draw the United States into the war.

In war, thinking men become unthinking beasts. Men of business science and achievement stop their work and become mere physical units
in an army.

Youths drop their life dreams and their futures. Ambitions crumble.
Home and family plans are swept aside.

Progress, whose figures we carve
in marble to decorate our proud buildings, becomes a withered, paralyzed wreck. The blight of hate reaches into the innermost corner of every city, of every home, of every heart.

Worse things than death fall to the lot of millions of human beings
in war, including mental and moral decay.

Into the situation which would produce these terrible changes I have seen all the nations of Europe endeavor to drag the United States.

From those capitals, at the other end of the line, I have watched Washington and the government
there extricate the United States from one plot after another, from one diabolical machination after another.

Some times we in Europe, who were seeing the European side of the picture—the efforts of the allies
to draw us into war with Germany;
the efforts of the Germans to draw us into war with the allies—held our breaths.

There were times when it seemed that war would be the only way out.

I have seen Germans rejoicing at the prospect of having the United States quarrel with the allies; I have seen the allies with delight over the chance that the United States would go to war with Germany over the Lusitania or some other incident.

But always, sane, sound, steady,
the United States came through. It was a magnificent thing to see from our point of vantage in Europe.

It made one thrill to realize that the United States was his own country.

Now, when I return home, I find an election campaign under way. I hear men say that we have peace
without honor.

We, in the European capitals, who saw our government escape the war traps, felt no loss of honor. We are always able to lock the other fellow in the eye and be proud.

No one over there ever seriously challenges our loss of honor, and men are highly sensitive to such

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

Men's Clothes

We do not claim that our Men's Suits are in a class to themselves nor the best in the world
—but we do claim for our Collegian Clothes, that nobody puts more style into a coat, nor makes one that fits prettier, whether the prevailing style is a form-fitting or loose back, broad or narrow shoulders. A coat to be perfect must have that close fitting collar; that graceful curve of the shoulder lapels that fold alike on each side, and a front that hangs snug to the body. When you see a perfect fitting coat here, just pull back the front and see if it does not bear the COLLEGIAN label. We show these perfectly tailored all wool suits in serges, cassimeres and worsteds, sizes 33 to 50 $15, $17, $20, $25. At $10 and $12.50 we show you all wool suits in the present styles,
and one you will not be ashamed to wear.

things over there.
We are proud of American sanity
and of American statesmanship and that cool, calm reckoning of the American people which prevented them from being stampeded.

It was a fine, thrilling thing to be an American in European capitals
and to know that in our own capital
at Washington there were men shrewd and far-sighted as any of the statesmen of Europe, to know, also,
that the statesmen in Washington were steadier, saner, less influenced by hate and bitterness and better able to judge right and wrong than the wisest statesmen in Europe.

And to come home now to the United States and witness the attempt to thrust from the guidance of American affairs the government which has led the United States through this maze of diplomacy and machination is, to one who has witnessed affairs from the European end, little short of terrifying. It is like playing with dynamite.

There is no politics in European nations today. Governments are being held in their places by coalitions.
Among the neutrals this also is true.

Holland has no politics, and it is safe; Switzerland has no politics and it is safe. Greece did have politics, and behold Greece today.

To come home, and to behold the working of politics in this world crisis is, I repeat, little short of terrifying.

With all the European peoples doing all they can, even to abandoning elections, in order to keep their governments intact and unchanged, there are persons in the United States who, out of sheer politics and by discussion of such petty matters
as the removal of a minor government official, seek to overthrow the government.

Certainly the steadiness of our government is as important to us as the steadiness of their government is to Germans and Britishers; our danger is as great if not so imminent
and apparent as theirs.

The certain grasp of our present government on war affairs is as important to us as the grasp of von Bethmann-Hollweg or Asquith is to Germany or England.

Do you know why Zeppelins fly over London? It is not to destroy arsenals or kill soldiers. It is to disturb the British people with their government and to provoke them to upset it on the ground that it is not protecting them.

Men are fighting in Europe now to upset enemy governments and thereby weaken their opponents.

In the United States some of us are trying to upset our own government at a time when the war crisis demands stability and continuance of the government.

Most nations, in the crisis, have abolished elections. This was not necessary in the United States, nor would it have been possible. But this coming election ought to be a mere formality. The vote ought to mean in so many words:

"You've done well, Mr. President.
Carry on."

Ford and Edison Plan

How They May Help Re-elect Woodrow Wilson President

Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford arm in arm walked into the office of Chairman Vance C. McCormick at democratic national headquarters last week. They announced quite simply that since they are heart and soul for Woodrow Wilson they wanted to find out how they could best direct their efforts to insure his re-election. Mr. McCormick had invited them to do so and they took him at his word. The two "wizards" went to luncheon with the chairman and Secretary of the Navy Daniels and conferred particularly with regards to methods of reaching the independent voters of the country.

"Give the people the facts," declared Mr. Edison, "and it will be a Wilson landslide. No president ever faced such problems, no president ever made such a record of achievements."

"It is not alone that Woodrow Wilson has statesmanship, he has leadership, too. I have always been a republican but I put my country above party in a world crisis with the fate of America in the balance. I would take shame to myself if I did not put myself behind a man who has given us peace with honor, prosperity with justice and preparedness without militarism."

Mr. Ford was no less emphatic. Like Mr. Edison, he said: "I am a republican but I cannot stay with a party that puts office seeking first and America last."

"President Wilson has saved the United States from the horrors and desolation of international war. He has saved us from industrial war. His domestic policies have given new strength."

Middleburg

Rev. J. W. Beagle failed to come and fill his appointment Sunday. He was engaged in a meeting at Preachersville.

A good rain fell here Monday and it was greatly needed too. Both stock and drinking water had become scarce.

Mrs. W. T. Dye and her daughter, Miss Martha, of Liberty, were here Sunday.

It is said that there are warrants out for the arrest of nine young men who behaved badly at Grove during the late protracted meeting out there. None of them, however are Grove boys.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Creech, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Coffey, F. L. Jones, Misses Ruby Lee Fogle and Essie Hanly motored to Somerset Sunday to see that city, and attended the Sunday School convention. They went by the way of Stanford.

Little Bobbie Roberts, son of J. M. Roberts, here stuck a nail in his foot Saturday, and the little fellow has suffered considerable pain since. Judge Lincoln Wells, Woodson Ellis, J. C. and McDowell Fogle went to Lexington Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moore and Mrs. D. T. Dye, of Liberty were here one day last week.

Friday was "field day" for the schools in this educational division. They met on the graded school grounds here and spent the day running, jumping, playing ball, courting and any other old that was reasonable and right. All had a big time and are going to come back again some day.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN
CORRECTS CONDITION THAT SEEMED HOPELESS

After suffering from chronic constipation until she was run down she was unable to do any kind of work, Miss H. A. W. H. Mershon, Lancaster Pike, Stanford, says: "I was troubled some time ago with an acute attack of kidney trouble. My back ached constantly and I had considerable pains through my loins. I felt languid at times and was easily tired. I took a box of Doan's Pills and they fixed me up all right, the second box practically curing me of the trouble."

It 'Gets' Every Corn Every Time.
Painless. Nothing More Simple.

"I'll tell you what, I've quit using toe-eating salves for corns. I've quit making a package out of my toes with bandages and contraptions—quit digging with knives and scissors. Give me 'GETS-IT' every time!"

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good.

I took eight bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

A Message of Hope to the Sick and Afflicted

Did You Ever Read Your Bible? Were You Ever Sick? Are You Sick?

Disease is UNNATURAL, while God intended ALL people to be healthy and vigorous, to live to an average of 70 years. The AVERAGE death rate in America is about THIRTY-FIVE years. The reason? Because people are getting farther and farther away from NATURE and God's laws; they use poison, dope, manufactured drugs, animal filth and minerals for medicine and undergo unnecessary surgical operations instead of using God's medicines, Roots and Herbs.

I, DAKOTA JACK, THE COWBOY HERBALIST, of Louisville, Ky., do hereby solemnly affirm that I believe there is a cure, safe, sure, speedy, in the vegetable kingdom. I have demonstrated this to my entire satisfaction, to the satisfaction of thousands of people in this State, by the wonderful, almost miraculous cures made by roots and herbs. I prepare COM-CEL-SAR and the genuine CHEYENNE INDIAN REMEDIES FROM ROOTS AND HERBS, medicines used by the Indians and our forefathers to CURE diseases.

All PEOPLE can buy through THE LINCOLN PHARMACY, Stanford, Kentucky. WEDDLE'S DRUG STORE, Hustonville, Kentucky.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

SEVERANCE AND SON

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Tanlac Week, Celebrating Victory of Great New Remedy in Nation, Proves Success as Many Praise

Former Sufferers from Stomach, Kidney and Liver Ills Enthusiastically Join in Tributes to Medicine Which Relieved Them

Sick, weak, nervous, run-down men and women throughout the United States are taking a new interest in life today, because this is Tanlac Week, celebrating the presentation of The Master Medicine to American people two years ago.

Tanlac today is in two million homes because it has won an honored place as a household remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. The tens of thousands of people who have been benefitted by Tanlac, the reconstructive tonic, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer, are glad to join in praise of Tanlac because of their gratitude to Tanlac for relieving them of ills which discomfort, distress and endanger so many of their kinsmen, relatives, friends and neighbors.

TANLAC IS NATURE'S REMEDY

Tanlac's aid to the people has been unusual. It has been simple and natural, for Tanlac is Nature's remedy for the common, everyday ills and diseases which beset mankind, debilitate both men and women, deprive them of the happiness and fullness of existence that ought by right to belong to everybody; impair the digestion, destroy the appetite, retard the functions of the vital organs, and thus by injury to the stomach blood and nerves destroy vigor, ambition, and the general health.

The fact that Tanlac is sold and recommended by more than 8,000 druggists is in itself proof of its merit. The druggist is the friend and advisor of his customer. He says what he thinks is the truth about medicines.

"It gives universal satisfaction" is the usual commendation of Tanlac by druggists. "We are glad to handle it because our customers realize its worth."

DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND TANLAC

The druggists who recommend Tanlac are the druggists who serve the people in the largest cities and in the smallest villages. But everywhere they are the big, upstanding, representative merchants of their communities, enjoying the confidence of all who know them. When they recommend a medicine they know that it is good.

"It is a pleasure to sell Tanlac because every purchaser is exactly satisfied" is a remark many of them make. "Tanlac gives satisfaction and people recommend it."

These 8,000 druggists in all parts of the United States who have so enthusiastically recommended Tanlac have a good reason for so doing.

They know that Tanlac deserves to be recommended. Back of Tanlac's triumphs in the drug store stand Tanlac's triumphs in the home.

RECOGNIZED AS SUPREME

Tanlac has so much merit, it is so splendid a remedy for stomach, digestion, kidneys and liver, that it has become a household remedy. Tanlac, known as The Master Medicine is coming to be known as The National Tonic because it is recognized supreme as a reconstructive, up-builder, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer to relieve the weakness, illness and general depletion of body force resultant from the breaking-down of the digestive processes.

Mere eating is not enough to supply the body. The food taken into the stomach must be rendered into blood, bone and tissue. If the digestive organs are not ready to perform their functions the food becomes waste, sours, ferments and creates poisons which are carried throughout the system.

Tanlac is designed to aid assimilation so that food which is taken into the system will serve as fuel for the body to keep the human engine moving as it should. It has been said that Tanlac is like oil to machinery—it keeps the human engine moving smoothly and efficiently.

FITS PEOPLE FOR LIVING

"Tanlac has made me one hundred per cent more efficient" is a tribute often paid to Tanlac. Men and women have been made better fitted for the job of living, stronger, more vigorous, more ambitious, because they had a greater power and strength to use in meeting duties and enjoying pleasures.

Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating from gas, sourness and soreness of the stomach, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, sharp, shooting pains in all parts of the body, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, falling off of weight, foul breath, catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes—these ailments Tanlac was designed to relieve, and tens of thousands have testified that Tanlac relieved them, made them feel well and strong again, fit once more for the day's work and the night's sleep.

SENATOR BECKHAM

MAKES GREAT ARGUMENT FOR RE-ELECTION OF WILSON

Most Popular of Kentucky's Democratic Leaders Addresses Enormous Crowd At Calhoun

The first speech delivered by United States Senator Beckham in the present campaign, was at Calhoun, McLean county Saturday and was easily one of the most powerful arguments for the re-election of the President that will be made. Senator Beckham's speech was devoid of abuse of the Republican candidate. His speech was one that appealed to every voter who crowded the large circuit court room. It was a recital of the achievements of President Wilson and the Democratic administration at Washington. As the junior senator drove home telling points, the greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and he was cheered repeatedly.

The feature of the entire meeting came at the close of Senator Beckham's speech of two hours. Hundreds pressed forward to congratulate the senator, among the number being several Republicans, who declared that they had followed the g. o. p. for years, but that they had decided to vote for Woodrow Wilson this year. Senator Beckham told them that they would be voting for the greatest living American.

Great preparations were made by the McLean county Democratic committee for the meeting. It was estimated that it was the largest crowd that ever attended a political speaking in McLean county. Big delegations came from Owensboro and all neighboring counties, and the enthusiasm with which Beckham was greeted proved that he is still the closest man in the state to the hearts of the great mass of Kentucky democrats today.

Prior to the speaking the Calhoun band rendered patriotic music in front of the courthouse. When Senator Beckham entered the court room every available seat was occupied and scores were forced to stand. Senator Beckham was introduced by Judge John A. Stevens. He spoke in part as follows:

No party ever came before the American people in a presidential campaign with a better record or a stronger case than the Democratic party presents to the people in this campaign. Democrats confidently and unhesitatingly claim, and intelligent independent voters and many fair-minded Republicans admit, that the administration of our Federal government for the last three and a half years has never been excelled in the history of this country, in the wisdom of its conduct, in the number and importance of its far-reaching and beneficial legislative reforms, in the admirable and patriotic manner in which it has managed our relations with foreign countries under the most difficult and, at times, dangerous circumstances, and in its many splendid achievements for the advancement of the welfare and happiness of the great common people of our land. It has fully justified the faith of those voters who by their suffrage placed it in power nearly four years ago, and by its remarkable course in a momentous period in the world's history, it has won the unreserved approval of that large body of American citizens, who are independent in politics, who are not influenced by partisan prejudices, and who have grown so in numbers and strength in recent years, that they can turn the tide of battle either way in a national election.

We do not need to appeal to the testimony of Democrats to establish our case; we can prove it by presenting the opinions of some of the brightest minds among the independent and Republican voters of the country. As a fair and striking example of the many instances of this kind, of tribute coming not from Democrats, but from impartial and patriotic leaders of other political affiliations, let me quote from the recent excellent statesman of Dr. Charles W. Elliott, president emeritus of Harvard University, whose sole interest in this election is the welfare of his country and the peace and prosperity of its people. In summing up his views he says:

"Anyone who surveys the extraordinary series of legislative and executive acts accomplished by the Democratic party in three years and a half will realize two things: First, that President Wilson has proved himself a party leader of unusual power; and secondly, that the party thus led has done much more for the country than the Republican party accomplished in five times as many years.

"On the whole, the independent voters are likely to act next November on two simple well-grounded convictions: First, that the Democratic party has done such an extraordinary amount of good work during the present administration that the period from 1912 to 1916 will be memorable in the history of United States; and secondly, that the man chiefly responsible for this consummate service to the American people should be again made their chief servant."

Henry Ford has been the most remarkable figure in the industrial world for some years. His extraordinary genius has established the largest and most successful manufacturing plant on earth. He has always been a Republican and in his primaries in his State, Michigan, before the National Republican Convention of last June the Republican voters of his State, by a substantial majority, gave him the instructions in that state for the Republican nomination for the presidency, even when he was not a candidate and was not seeking the nomination. Listen to what he says in the closing part of his recent public statement.

"The business of the United States today has a momentum that no man, or group of men, can stop. As for the tariff, which the Republicans insist must be revived to help save our prosperity after the war, I want to say that the tariff is nothing but a hothouse remedy. 'It may make business sprout for a while, and it never can produce a hardy permanent business plant.

U. S. Senator J. C. W. Beckham

"I know Hughes; Teddy and Wall street are behind him. 'I'm a Republican for the same reason I have ears—I was born that way. But I'm for Wilson because I believe he can do more to enhance the prosperity and assure peace for the nation than any other candidate. Any one who does not want to gamble with prosperity should vote against him.'"

I might quote Thos. A. Edison, Prof. Irving Fisher, and many other leaders of thought, and men of genius and achievement, to the same purpose. But what is the use of adding to what I have already given? Are not the opinions of these men, impartial and uninfluenced by any selfish or partisan motives, worth more to voters in making up their minds how to vote in the coming election, than the ill-tempered and warlike utterances of Col. Roosevelt, deeply disappointed in his uncontrollable ambition to again wield the big stick from the White House or the childish and petulant attacks against the Democratic administration, made by Judge Hughes, the candidate without an issue?

The sober and impartial judgment of a large majority of the intelligent and patriotic people of this country will pronounce that administration to have been unparalleled and conspicuous in its successful conduct of the affairs of the nation. History will so write it, and posterity must commend and praise it, because within these brief years of its existence so far we have come to a turning point in the world's history, and the hand that has guided us through such perilous experiences has kept us in the pathway of peace and safety and progress. Is it wise to take that hand from the helm before we have reached the end of our hard journey? It is the custom of passengers on a ship, when a pilot has safely carried them thru the storm and tempests of the sea to throw him overboard and substitute in his place an untrained and inexperienced man for the place? Does the farmer, or the merchant, or the banker, discharge a faithful and efficient servant, just to give the place to some errand fellow who happens to want the job? Do you know of any successful business concern that follows the practice of dismissing its manager, who has capably and satisfactorily conducted its business, simply to gratify the appetites of some hungry office seekers?

Then, what reason on earth can there be to displace Woodrow Wilson with Charles E. Hughes, unless it be to satisfy, if possible, the inordinate greed for office of those back of the candidacy of Mr. Hughes? What principle is represented? Their most resourceful leaders can point to none. What issue do they represent? The most powerful political microscope has so far been unable to discover a single one.

Col. Roosevelt upbraids and abuses the President because he did not take such action when the German armies invaded Belgium, or when the Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine, as would have inevitably involved us in war with Germany. He and Judge Hughes say that the President, in those cases was a "man of words and not of deeds." They charge him with weakness and vacillation. And yet if their ideas had been adopted our country would now be involved in the European war.

It is astounding that sane men, of prominence and leadership, can announce such doctrines and seek to raise an issue for this campaign out of such a monstrous proposition. It illustrates the feebleness of the Republican cause, and reflects upon the intelligence of those who propose such an absurd issue. If we had protested against the invasion of Belgium, as the Colonel says we should have done, Germany, of course, would have paid attention to our protest, and if the warlike Colonel had been President, and was a "man of deeds and not of words," as he claims to be, he would have had to send an American army over there to aid in repelling the invasion.

It is not extravagant to say that the American people now and for generations to come will owe to President Wilson a debt of lasting gratitude for the wisdom and statesmanship he has displayed in maintaining the peace of this land in times of almost world-wide war—a war unequalled in all history in its destruction of human lives, and in its waste of property and treasure. As a master of the art, he has matched straight forward American diplomacy with the secret and evasive diplomacy of Europe and he has not lost in a single contest.

He has taught the world a lesson in diplomacy. He has voiced the spirit of the great democracy which he represents; and when at last peace shall come to the war-torn and exhausted nations, and their statesmen shall begin the work of reconstruction from the ruins, they will realize that the only diplomacy upon which nations can live at peace with one another and allow their people to prosper, is the American system, as exemplified by President Wilson in his conduct of our foreign relations.

He has had a difficult, a tremendous task to perform. No other President ever had a harder one. After the European war broke out he found our people divided to a great extent in their sympathies for one or the other side of the belligerents. He found some of those belligerents through their agents were seeking to stir up strife and disloyalty in this country. And in many instances, men and newspapers, who pretended to be Americans, but who in reality were disloyal to country and were seeking to serve some foreign country, have heaped upon him their limitless abuse.

But throughout it all he has kept a clear head and has preserved the absolute neutrality of this government. He has stood for the principles of international law and justice, and has done everything possible to compel the observance of those principles by the belligerent nations. The war is not yet over and no man can tell when it will be. Even when that time comes, other great problems for this country to meet will arise. There will be a readjustment of international relations. There may be a program for the leading nations to adopt, for the purpose of reducing the causes and probabilities of wars in the future, and of insuring the peace of the world. This country cannot escape its part and responsibility in such important matters. It will need then, as it needs now, its safest and wisest leader.

This administration, more than any other administration since the Republican party was born, has been a people's administration. Its splendid service has been for the universal good of all. It has stormed and demolished many of the citadels where special privileges were entrenched. It has waged no foolish warfare upon legitimate business or industry, but it has at all times stood for the rights of the people, and it has, with extraordinary skill and success, won innumerable battles for them. Its record for constructive and beneficial measures of far-reaching effects is remarkable and admirable.

Not since 1896 has the Money Trust and the Big Interests been so active and violent in a Presidential campaign as they are in this, and their hostility to the President should insure for him the ardent support of all liberty-loving and loyal Americans. Those interests are fighting him because they have not been able to control him. They are angered because they have found him to be a stalwart, courageous and sagacious champion of the people. He has deprived them of much of their power to plunder. They have, in some way, resuscitated the old reactionary leaders of the Republican party, placed them again in absolute control of that party, and are endeavoring to win back those Republicans who wandered into the Progressive party four years ago.

They have succeeded in coaxing Col. Roosevelt back to his first and real love, and at the recent banquet of the Union League Club of New York their influence was sufficient to even make him and his enemy, ex-President Taft, shake hands, and pretend to be friends in the holy crusade, engineered and financed in Wall street, to defeat the re-election of Woodrow Wilson.

The cause of the Democratic party in this campaign should appeal not only to Democrats, but to all good citizens in our land. The great mass of the people, who take no active part in politics, are not interested in the mere victory of one party over another, but they should be deeply interested in the proper administration of their public affairs and in the cause of good government. They should reward that party, or those men, who have well and faithfully served them. They should look upon such matters not as partisans, but as patriots. If this Democratic administration has made the excellent record which many believe it has, then it is entitled to the overwhelming indorsement of the American people. It should be continued in power, not so much as an indorsement of what it has done, but because what it has done has shown it to be superior to its rival in capacity and purpose for further good service to the people.

It is not so much a question as to whether or not we should again honor Woodrow Wilson for what he has done by re-electing him to the high position he now holds; but it is a question for us to decide in this campaign as to whether or not it is best for the country to continue as its chief executive for the next four years the man who has proven himself eminently well qualified to meet and to decide the great problems affecting the welfare and future of this republic, that now and will for years to come, in rapid succession, present themselves for solution. It should be understood that President Wilson is not alone on trial in this contest. The American people are also on trial. This is one of the cases where their capacity for self-government, their proper comprehension of their relations to the government under which they live, and their realization of their obligations and duties to the government, are to be fully tried and tested.
